

Kevin Brockberg Biography

Spanning public, private, and international schools in Early Childhood, K-12, and Higher Education, Kevin Brockberg holds a PhD in Education Leadership from Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan.

Certified in the United States as an administrator, classroom teacher, and physical educator, his wide variety of experiences range from inner-city Detroit Public Schools to the Hong Kong International School. As a visionary leader, he aims for collegial discourse examining instructional methodology and inclusive school cultures as research-into-practice for the Lutheran Schools in Indiana and Northern Kentucky.